The graph shows the relationship between MSD (mean squared displacement) and time for various stiffness values. The stiffness values range from 500 to 32000 Pa. The graph displays multiple lines, each representing a different stiffness value, with the lines becoming steeper as the stiffness increases. The x-axis represents time, while the y-axis represents MSD.