Figure S1: Characterization of the PurL* construct containing the two unintentionally obtained mutations R1266S and G1295W (A) circular dichroism (CD) wavelength scan (B) thermal denaturation profile (C) activity assay. The red cross is data for the surface mutant (PurL*) and black dot indicates data for the native.