Figure S4. Metabolite levels cannot be regarded as independent from each other. In this example the hybrid level of metabolite X is dependent on the level of metabolite Y and cannot therefore not be predicted from the average parental value of X.