Table S7: Summary of the results for Sub-Saharan Africa when all or one of five additional African populations are included (corresponding to Fig. S3). $\theta$ is the rotation angle for the PCA map that optimizes the Procrustes similarity with the geographic map, and it is measured in degrees counterclockwise. $P$-values are obtained from 100,000 permutations of population labels.