Figure S9: Simulation of the SSC18 carrier frequency with current selective advantage over 200 generations starting with lower carrier frequency (2%). Figure shows increasing carrier frequency due to heterozygous advantage (~3%) perceived in the selection index (TSI). Figure shows a trade-off at approximately 6% carrier frequency at which the heterozygous advantage is compensated by the loss of homozygous offspring.