Tryptophan Fluorescence vs. Wavelength (nm)

Panel A: Graph showing tryptophan fluorescence for two different samples. The red line represents one sample, and the black line represents another.

Panel B: Another graph showing tryptophan fluorescence with a different scale and range.

Wavelength (nm) range from 320 to 400.