According to the International Energy Agency (IEA), between 2005 and 2009, Australia's level of CO2 emissions per unit of power generated (measured in grams of carbon dioxide per kilowatt-hour—gCO2 per kWh) was 884gCO2 per kWh.