The importance of the human footprint in shaping the global distribution of terrestrial, freshwater and marine invaders

Figure S1. Sampling effort map generated to investigate the species-people correlation. The map was generated by combining the occurrence records for the 72 species investigated.