The starting time was synchronized by removing the beginning of both recordings before the starting frame of the fifth gait cycle of the right leg.
Based on the new common first frame, the gravity of both point clouds were moved to zero.