

Figure S1. Correlation between number of pathogens that perturb gene set and the number of biclusters that contain the gene set. Plot indicates that number of pathogens perturbing a gene set are positively correlated with the number of biclusters a particular gene set appeared in.