

Supplementary figures S4: MDS plot of unsupervised clustering using random forests performed on male (4a) and female (4b) extreme Prakriti subjects separately. In the case of male subjects three clusters were found (bottom panel, left) while in case of female samples four clusters were found (bottom panel, right).