

Repas et al, Growing plants on oily, nutrient poor soil using a native symbiotic fungus.

S1 Fig. Hydrophobicity of mineral soils before and after bitumen extraction.

A) Native boreal forest soils are hydrophilic: water droplets formed damp spots before they could be photographed. B) Extracted CT were hydrophobic, as were C) remediated CT. D) How contact angle is measured.