

New characters added to the original list of Conrad et al. (2012).

6224. Groove on the lateral surface of the maxilla in the anterior sector of the bony nasal opening: (0) absent; (1) present.

6225. Medial expansion on the anterior sloping edge of the facial process of the maxilla: (0) absent or weakly developed only in the lower sector of the sloping surface and not defined posteriorly (gradually merging with the lateral wall of the facial process); (1) present, developed on the ascending branch of the process, and well defined posteriorly (not merging with the lateral wall of the facial process).